Retiring Principal Floyd W. Bathurst.

Mr. Floyd W. Bathurst who will retire as Principal of Warren high school at the expiration of his present term, came to Warren in 1919 from Clarendon where he had taught and served as principal of the school there. Before that he was principal of the school at Hydetown, Pennsylvania.

Made principal of Warren high school in 1925, a position he has held since that date, Mr. Bathurst has been and is still very active in state and local educational circles. He holds the bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Michigan.

The Bathurst's live in North Warren.

Mr. Joseph Passaro, the new Warren high principal.

Mr. Bathurst Retires, Mr. Passaro Succeeds

The Warren Area Joint School Board held its regular meeting Monday night and elected Mr. Joseph Passaro to the position of acting principal for Warren high school to take effect at the end of this school year, at which time the present principal, Mr. Floyd W. Bathurst, retires.

Mr. Passaro became assistant principal of Warren high in 1951. Coming to Warren in 1946 from Youngsville where he had taught since 1938, his first position here was in the business education and athletics department. Retiring principal Bathurst has been principal of Warren high since 1926.

Other business on the agenda included the appointment of committees — the membership of last year's committees were re-elected. Mr. Carr, sponsor of the Dragonette, was given permission to attend the Columbia School Press Conference held in New York City, March 11 through 13. Mr. J. Roger Deas of the American Can Company was selected as the commencement speaker for this year.

The 1954-55 budget payments were considered. From last year's budget there is an estimated balance of $26,000, and there will be about $12,000 coming in from tuition, which means that the joint operation will complete the year with a little more than $38,000 cash.

The following allocation of costs applied to the various districts: Clarendon, 4.7134; Conewango, 13.7118; Elk 1.1784; Glade, 6.1061; Kinzua, 2.5174; Mead, 6.3739; Pleasant, 4.7670; Warren, 59.9357; Watson, .6963.

Orders amounting to $285.42 stood approved; Dr. John Larson submitted his medical report which showed that 206 medical exams had been conducted. The treasurer's report showed a balance of $62, 172.37; the board approved payment of bills amounting to $12, 178.06. Janitor's overtime came to a total of $46.50; special services, $212.50; and substitutes employed $417.86. Mr. Bathurst was given permission to attend the correspondence committee meeting in Harrisburg on January 14.

Mr. Joseph Passaro who was elected acting principal of Warren high at the Warren Joint Area regular meeting held Monday night, came to Warren as business education instructor and football coach in 1946. Made guidance counselor in 1947, Mr. Passaro became assistant principal to Mr. Bathurst in 1951.

A graduate of the Connellsville high school, the new principal-elect took his BS and MA degrees at Duquesne University in Pittsburgh. He has also done additional work at New York University and Syracuse University.

Mr. Passaro is chairman of the social committee of the Warren Boro teachers association, secretary and treasurer of district number ten, section two football league, an active member of the Warren county personnel association and the social science club.

The Passaros have one son, Tim, who attends Jefferson school.

A Population Survey now is being conducted in this area as a part of the monthly check-up that provides the census bureau with information of value to business and government in their analysis of current labor conditions. Back From School is William R. Walker, of the Walker Creamery Products, of Warren. He is one of ten persons enrolled in the Short Course for Testing Dairy Products, at Pennsylvania State University, January 4 to 9.

The Thirty-Fourth Anniversary of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce and the sixth of the Warren Chapter will be observed this week. It started in St. Louis as a local civic club and now has 2500 chapters. Its work in Warren is well known, ranging from music series concerts to major Fourth of July celebrations, helping the youth canteen, making a recreation poll, working to complete Memorial Field, stepping into the breach many times when men and money are needed. The organization is for willing young men from 21 to 35. It meets in the YMCA where rooms have been newly decorated and will be seen in their new look by the general membership for the first time next Wednesday. In the Warren National bank window next week will be a display. Chuck Hinckley and Bob Geiger are chairmen of the modest observance.

MANY MONTHS TO PAY!

OBSERVATIONS

By Bob Walsh

It is income tax time and before us lies that period in which we fill out many forms, readjust declarations, and scan our monetary future. In the midst of this financial turmoil comes many thoughts concerning the value received for money paid.

This is an important aspect of taxation and one that each of us should give much consideration. If a citizen is convinced that he would not distribute his money on the same percentage basis and for the same purposes as is done with the national budget he has a practical application on which to base his complaint. His complaints should not be kept to himself, but expressed verbally to his friends, mailed to his congressman and senators, and acted upon in a very practical manner the next time he visits the polls.

We are not happy about the use of our tidy bit. We think it is budgeted in a lop-sided manner, is inadequate, and unfair.

When an enemy flexes his muscles, or when we are convinced he is flexing them, we immediately spend most of our tax money buying muscles to back the punch we will need if retaliation becomes necessary. There is little opposition to this policy because few of us have a better answer, and no one wants his way of life (or even his life) wiped out. Besides, it makes a fine false prosperity for the present, and overflows a few bank accounts.

But let an enemy arise within our midst, with little to be gained in profits from steel, rubber, oil, coal, wood, and other products, by a battle against the insidious monster and we ask the public for donations which come in pittles. The battle is prolonged through generations of suffering and progress is tragically slow.

We see no sense in appropriating billions to make arms while collecting millions through private donations to fight cancer, TB, polio, arthritis, and the other incurables. What is a billion dollars in the midst of this mad storm of money if it will lick killing disease, a disease that kills more than any war?

Because there are strong lobbyists fighting anything that encourages the expenditure of tax money for health projects, and because there is little to be made in such a battle by those with influence, and because the public sits apathetically by while nothing is done.... nothing is.

If it is right to spend money to arm a policeman or a soldier to protect us from the gun in the hands of a burglar or an invading soldier, is it not right to spend money to arm our medical men with the knowledge that will spare us our lives at the hands of disease?

This is an unfair fight we are waging against the killers. While we make each citizen pay his fair share for military defense, and in many cases more than his fair share, we do not force our citizens to cooperatively take part in the battle with germ and virus. Those who give must also pay the cost of saving the lives of those who do not!

In fact our entire system of charity is lacking in organization and is extremely inefficient. We have administration expense piled high on top of administration expense as our many groups vie for funds and go their separate ways. We even have separate groups fighting the same killer all of them with operation expense eating up the precious dollars.

We are saying in our great apprehension concerning socialism and communism that people do not have the intelligence, the faith in God and country, the hope in our abilities, and sufficient charity to work together under common leaders to overcome any danger that threatens us!

Our tax load is heavy, but not so heavy but what it would be as nothing if a couple billion dollars were added for every disease we must lick. Let private laboratories, private physicians, private specialists do the job, but let's have the money!

This is not a fight for tomorrow. It is a fight for today! There are men and women giving their time and lives in these battles. Their cry is not for relief from their sacrifices but for money. All they want is that which will make facilities and skills available to speed up research.

And the richest nation in the world does not provide it. The richest nation depends on hit or miss donations; lets many get away without helping at all; taxes people heavily for atomic weapons and planes but lets them go free of responsibility for the effort to end misery, suffering, and death within our own ranks, or own communities, our own homes.

He who gives to charity must give more than enough for himself. He also must give for those who gave nothing or far too little.

Is there a skeptical reader among you who would not quickly agree to a twenty-five percent raise in your taxes if you were to learn that it would save you from being killed by cancer, or from dropping dead from a heart attack? Some will laugh this off but if death stood there this minute they would reach for the check book.

And it is that close to every one of you. Just as close as the Russians. Just as close as communism.

And it would not require a twenty-five percent increase. It would be far less than that. But it would total billions in the national till and it would mean health to the world.

This is supposed to be a Christian nation, a nation of great faith. When are we going to exhibit sufficient faith in ourselves and in our leaders to work together without fear that such a procedure is an abhorrent "ism" and not true democracy at its very best?

Our taxes are high, but they seem high to this taxpayer only because he feels he is not getting his money's worth. Why should we expect any less from a nation's government than we expect from its citizens?

DRAGON GRAPPLERS SNARE FOURTH WIN

The Warren high school wrestling team, under the helm of coach Homer Barr, picked up its fourth victory of the season Thursday night as the Barrmen spanked the Titusville Rockets, 26-12, in a meet at Beaty gym. This is the first time a Warren mat team has downed a Titusville team in the five-year wrestling history of Warren high school.

The undefeated Dragons took full command of the meet in the first match as little Wayne Miller pinned his man in the second period to give the locals a five point lead. Lou Cummings also pinned his opponent while Den Brown, Bob Miller, Glen Cook, Frank Smith, and Chuck Eaton decided their men. Brown, Swanson, Kerr, and Short were the victors for the Rockets.

The Blue and White grapplers who have already dumped the Oil City Oilers once this season will face them tonight in a tussle at Beaty gym. Then on January 25, the local matmen will journey to Brockway to meet the Brockway Hi wrestlers.

WARREN HOOPSTERS HUMBLE JAMESTOWN

The Warren Hi cagers made it seven in a row Tuesday night at Beaty gym when the Massamen belted the Jamestown Red Raiders, 64-52 to pick up their eighth victory of the season against two defeats. Earlier in the season, the Red and Green of Jamestown turned back the locals in Jamestown.

Bruce Duell and little Donnie Dick sparked the Dragon attack with 14 points apiece. Gary Ettinger and Bob Koebly were also good for 13 and 12, respectively. Gordon, the other member of the starting five, came through with 9. Top man for Jamestown was Marshall with 21, while Stroth and Remington each netted 9.

The Dragons, who are now coasting on an 8-2 record for the season, will face a rugged Oil City five Friday night on Beaty court. This will be a Section Two battle. The locals won their opening league contest from Franklin, 64-44, while the Oilers dropped their lid lifter to the Meadville Bulldogs, 60-54. On Tuesday night the Massamen will travel to Bradford for a tussle with the Owls. In their first meeting the locals trimmed Bradford, 50-47.

Gary Ettinger, Bruce Duell, and Donnie Dick paced the Warren high school basketballers to their seventh victory of the season Friday night as the Dragons hung up their first league game with a 64-44 win over the Franklin Nurserymen in a battle at Franklin.

Big Time Tennis

The best of the pro netters will be in Buffalo's Memorial Auditorium Sunday for a tournament which will start at 2:15. Playing will be Frank Sedgman, Pancho Segura, Pancho Gonzales, and Don D. Budge. Budge is making a comeback in the current tour of former Davis Cup champions.

Toby In Big Time

Toby Lyons, former Warren golf pro and now of Jamestown, is in St. Petersburg, Fla., with his family and is tuning up for his annual attack on the big money. Toby will pick up the tournament trail in about two weeks at Phoenix.

Hogan Will Play

Golfers who have wondered if the great Ben Hogan would be seen in major action again are assured that he will be swinging the sticks for stakes this summer. He will tackle every tournament this year that he did last. This means the Masters, Colonial, and U. S. Open. We doubt if it includes the British open. But that British tourney may attract more American sharpshooters this year. Hogan's appearance proved that big names pay off at the gate. They are raising the prize money enough to make it interesting.

Evans Stars Jan. 24 In King Richard II

Maurice Evans, who won national acclaim in his television debut as "Hamlet" on WBEN-TV and NBC last April, will re-create the role that won him stardom in this country when he presents his two-hour production of Shakespeare's "King Richard II" Sunday afternoon, Jan. 24, at 4 o'clock.

Sarah Churchill will be reunited with Evans for "King Richard II," enacting the role of his Queen. Miss Churchill was Ophelia in Evans' TV production of "Hamlet."

Evans personally has adapted the work to television, and considers it an ideal vehicle for the medium. The two-hour production will be divided into three acts, including such colorful scenes as Richard's abdication of the throne and the panoply of the crowning at Westminster Abbey of the usurper, Bolingbroke, as King Henry IV.

'You Are There' on WBEN-TV

The historical program that recreates momentous news as current events, "You Are There," has been added to WBEN-TV's Saturday evening schedule at 8 o'clock. The program replaces Bonino, which terminated with the end of 1953.

COLOR DOESN'T IMPROVE THE JOKES

Color television is a truly marvelous thing but - like the first broadcast from the new tower on the Empire State Building which was, you recall, an old cowboy movie - the programs that spill in lovely blues and greens and reds into your livingroom sometimes make you wonder whether it was worth the trouble inventing the darn thing.

The two shows most recently viewed were CBS's "New Revue" which is billed as the first regularly scheduled color program and "The Amateur Hour" on NBC which may be the oldest program anywhere around. Both were pretty dreary. Color, though, certainly adds a tremendous eye appeal to even the sorriest spectacle. "The Amateur Hour," for example, opened with a succession of curtains, all of different hues, rolling back one after another. It was quite a sight.

Ted Mack, who presides over "The Amateur Hour," has settled on a formula of homespun corn which, I guess, is relished in the backwoods but is not my dish of tea at all. You get barbershop quartets, cowboys playing harmonicas, that sort of thing. You can hear some of the worst singing your ears were ever assaulted with and color television, I'm afraid, does nothing to conceal the absence of vocal chords.

Four small Negro boys, the winners from the previous week, did a rather odd act, slapping their thighs and clapping their hands in a fine rhythmic manner - if that sort of thing appeals to you. The high point of a real low evening - to me at least - were four youngsters dressed in wine-colored clown suits who did a tumbling act. They were cute as buttons and, tumbling about the floor, they looked like a troupe of performing puppies.

The program - if you can call it that - wound up with a group of Irish folk doing an Irish reel which was notable chiefly for the dark green dresses worn by the girls and the mustard color shirts worn by the boys. Technically, it was a triumph of electronics. I can't recall ever seeing such glowing colors, such pleasant lighting and the rest of it. But as show business, I should say that Barnum was a good hundred years ahead of this in his day - and that was a hundred years ago.

What hath RCA wrought, I kept musing to myself, and having wrought it, can't they do something better than this with it? "Color television," intoned Ted Mack, who inherited this show from the late Major Bowes, "is just another milestone in the march of 'The Amateur Hour.'" Well, yes, I suppose that's true. But "The Amateur Hour" is hardly a milestone in the march of color television. More of a roadblock.

The commercials, incidentally, were just plain terrific. A cherry pie was covered with whipped cream is absolutely sensational on color TV, Mannie. Let's see if we can't sign it up exclusive - and the whole concoction looked, if you'll pardon the expression, good enough to eat.

"The first regularly scheduled color television show" looks as if it had been put together with a piece of string and twenty-five cents. It could loosely be called a variety show - singers, tapdancers, puppets, and occasionally from Mike Wallace, the emcee, jokes. "Marriage is a wonderful institution." That, I've decided, is what you might call an on-color joke. Enough of those and they'll drive us all back to the burlesque houses to listen to the other kind.

The brightest moment of this confection to me was, of all things, a setting for a song which had the impudence and gaiety and dreamy enchantment of a Dufy painting. The scene designers, I decided are going to have a field day in color television.

NEWS in brief . . .

Receipts For The Warren Post office in 1953 were $1,488,390, highest in its history and about $30,000 above 1952.

In 1952, Warren stood in ninth place among postoffices in Penna., exceeded only by Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Scranton, Allentown, Erie, Reading and Lancaster in that order. In 1953 Warren stepped up to eighth place having nosed out Lancaster.

Warren is one of the 203 "key" postoffices in the United States.

Owners Of Commercial Vehicles, motor buses, omnibuses, trucks, trailers or semi-trailers in Pennsylvania were warned yesterday that those vehicles must be inspected by the end of this month if it has not already been done. Reports to state secretary of revenue Otto F. Messner indicate that many owners of commercial vehicles are neglecting official inspections, apparently because of a misunderstanding over an amendment to section 823 of the Motor Vehicle Code. The important thing to remember is that the deadline on commercial vehicle inspection is February 1st.

Sports

A Well-Balanced Bluedevil basketball team cinched the first-half Jr. Hi-Y cage crown on the Y court Saturday afternoon, when it registered a 52-42 victory over the second-place Monarchs. A 24-point third-period rally sent the victors ahead after they led only 17-16 at the mid-point. Jack Karkosky led the winners with 13 points while Nicky Creola dumped in 14 for the Monarchs.

The Blackhawks closed the Junior Hi-Y league's first half with a 48-33 victory over the Guided Missiles. Pete Bova got 18 and his twin brother, Paul, scored 10 to lead the winners. The Hawks finished second.

Home Street made it four in a row Saturday afternoon when the Cadets belted the McClintock Owls, 34-20, in a Gra-Y League battle at the Y court. In the other contest, South Street clubbed East Street 21-9. Jeff Branch was top man for Home Street with 14 points. Kane was high for the Owls with 6. For South it was McClement with 6 markers.

LEGION AND ROCKETS WIN AT THE Y

Last Thursday night at the YMCA floor, the American Legion five upset the Duquesne Dukes, 69-64, and the Warren Rockets nipped Youngsville, 52-47. Chuck Irwin led the Legion with 28 points while Jerry Leonard was tops for the Dukes 19. In the second battle, Al Babcock led his Rocket five to victory with 19 while Bud McClesney had 18 for Youngsville.

The second half started Monday when the Legion took a forfeit from the Warren Merchants because they had used an illegal player in the contest. In the nightcap Youngsville beat Duquesne, 45-43, in a real thriller. It was the sixth straight loss for the Dukes.

YMCA CAGE TEAM DROPS REAL THRILLER

Billy Jowett threw in 34 points to lead his Jamestown YMCA team to a 69-63 win over the Warren Y boys in a thriller at the Jamestown Y floor Saturday night. It was a close game all the way with New Yorkers pulling ahead in the last two minutes of play. Top man for the locals was Ron Isackson with 17 points while Hud Berdine and Bob Reese each netted 13 markers. Next to Jowett in scoring for Jamestown was Larson with 11.

Next game for the local Y team will be against the Bradford YMCA squad at Bradford on January 15. Local fans will get a chance to see them in action on February 6 in Warren against the Bradford boys.

BOWLING SPARES

Glenn Grosch almost got himself another 700 this week in the City league when he spilled games of 236, 223, and 232 for a 691. It was one of many fine totals, including Dr. Jim Giunta's 632, which was helped along by a 277 game. Doc had nine in a row but caught a wild one in the tenth and lost his 300 opportunity.

Other City league totals were Pete Juliano's 622, Nummy Wooster's 616, and Myer Pappalardo's 616.

Jack Kifer caught a 644 in the Commercial. Allan Johnson had 616 and Joe Waples, 601.

Fred Baldensperger led the Industrial with 638. Paul Coppola had a 247 game and Pete Juliano, 242.

BUYERS' CORNER

Health insurance is becoming big business and the Federal Trade Commission is making a nationwide investigation of alleged false and misleading advertising in this field. It is claimed to be the first broad-scale Commission investigation of its kind.

This investigation will not take in insurance companies which do their business solely within a state. These are under the regulation of the state. The commission, however, urges all state governments, local officials, and citizens to co-operate in fighting these abuses.

For example, if you have been sold a policy that does not do what the advertising or salesman claimed, write the Federal Trade Commission, Washington, 25, D. C.

Irregularities in this field could be very expensive. Not only is the health of the unprotected affected, but the investment is immense. Of the 160 million people in this country, 99 and a half million are covered, or think they are covered, by hospital insurance. Seventy-three million have some form of surgical protection, and nearly thirty-six million have medical expense protection.

Back in 1925 there were only fifty companies in this business. Now the number is eight hundred. In 1952 the premiums paid totaled $1,883,999,724, an increase of 206 percent over 1946. The law of averages says that some of these are not all that they advertise so lavishly.

The Pillsbury Mills Inc. is the defendant in an action resulting from its acquisition of the Ballard and Ballard Company and Duff's Baking Mix Division of the American Home Products Corp. It is claimed the purchase of these companies is a move away from healthy competitive conditions and tends to make a monopoly.

Pillsbury is the second largest flour miller in the United States. Since buying these other producers it has increased its milling six percent. The big increases came in the manufacturing of mixes which went up forty percent and the manufacture of commercial feed which jumped fifty-seven percent.

The case was dismissed by one hearing examiner but the commission has claimed this was improper and has remanded the case to Joe Colosimo led the Junior Industrial with 609.

Stub McMichael tossed 599 and 237 in the Merchants circuit, Ernie Nollinger, 502, in the New Process, Glenn Grosch, 510, in the Mixed league.

Pete Nichols fired a 604 in the K of C American and Frank Gerardi had 601 in the K of C National. John Russell rolled 583 in Sylva, Louie Check shot 581 in the Ex-Servicemens, Paul Robillard spilled 556 in the Shop circuit.

Striking Ladies

The Warren women bowlers have about ten teams lined up for the national tournament in Syracuse. No confirmation has been received of their date, but they hope it will be in April.

The annual women's singles tournament which has been held at the Penn for many seasons may not be staged this month. It may wait a later date and will not be held unless enough interest is shown to provide a field worth the effort.

Vi Sterling continued to return to old form as she spanked out a 570 series, including a 218 game, in the Major league. Millie Burman had 540 and 216, and Rita Mile had 503. Jaye Pappalardo fell out of bed for a 210.

Red Walsh led the Ladies City loop with 546. Peg Yaegle had 518 and Rose Driscoll, 507. Mary Lawson led the Minors with 454, Barb Weiland topped the Peg's League with 454, and Phil Honhart had 441 in the Classic league, and Dell Baumgrotz bowled 404 in the Warren Plastics.

Officer Richard Tucker . . . received his state license to officiate at the games of the Warren Chapter of the PIAA . . . two Sugar Grove men, Mr. Luvison and Mr. Bauer were granted a license also.

A New Pen will be marketed by the Parker Pen Co., within the next two months. It will be a ball point which the company will advertise as doing six hundred percent more writing because the cartridge will hold two to three times as much ink as most ball points, and will be designed so that all of the ink is drawn out. It will sell for $2.75.

Your Funny Paper will have three new comic strips in 1954. There will be one built around Sherlock Holmes, written by Edith Meiser and drawn by Frank Giacoia. The New York Herald Tribune syndicate will circulate it.

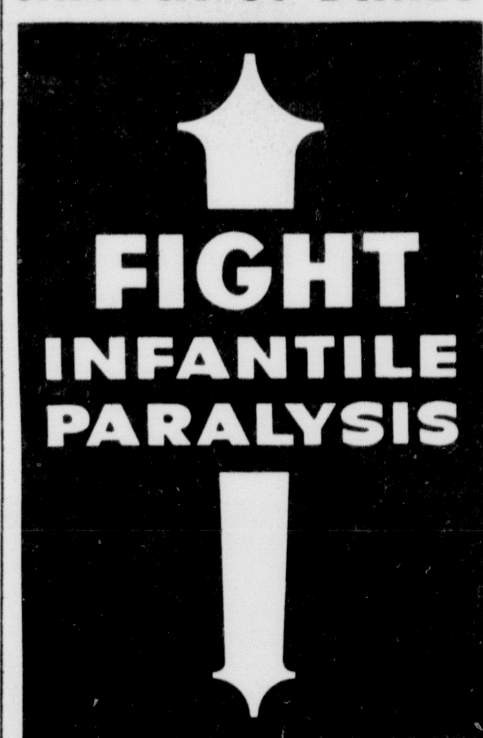

Another will be about a gorilla with a large sense of humor, and will be called Jungo. It will be written and drawn by John A. Duncan who is giving up his law practice to become a cartoonist. He got his start as art editor for the Princeton Tiger. He also illustrated his own book, "Strangest Cases on Record". It will be syndicated by Lafave Newspaper Features and will be seen around here in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The third new strip will be named Spur Line and will star a wheezing engine called Hiball, operated by Grumpy Pope Pike. Bud Sangendorf will do this for Associated Press Newsfeatures.

Those Harold Ickes diary excerpts soon will be serialized by the Register and Tribune Syndicate. There will be fourteen installments, starting January 17. Editors are encouraged to use the book to augment the excerpts. The Cold facts!

As the thermometer goes down—traffic accidents go up!

You may do less driving in January and February than you do in Spring and Summer but—even so—cold facts prove that these months are the most dangerous on our highways.

Gray weather... added hours of darkness... snow and haze... wet or icy roads—all do their part to increase the chances of traffic accidents. This is "skid" weather. If you live in or drive through the mountain regions of Pennsylvania—you know how much more alert you must be in winter to avoid mishap.

But no matter where you live or where you drive—be extra cautious. Learn how to control your car if it should start to skid. Slow down in winter. Drive carefully. Make 1954 the safest year ever!

This message in the interest of highway safety is one of a series prepared and disseminated by the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association and the Pennsylvania Department of Revenue.

Things to Come

After The Game Dance....Why not drop in to the YWCA tomorrow night after the game for an evening of dancing? The dance will start directly following the basketball game with Oil City.

Dimes March.....The dimes will again be marching to the aid of polio victims and research during the tag days set for Friday and Saturday, January 15 and 16. Members of the Y-Teens will be busy selling these worthy tags. Let's all donate our dimes.

Christian Men To Meet.....The Christian Business Men's Association will meet for a dinner Saturday evening, January 16 in the YWCA. The meal will be served at 6:15 p. m.

Jaycee Auxiliary.....Members of the Jaycee Auxiliary and their husbands will see slides, some of which include the Fourth of July Celebration and the Ringling Bros. Circus here in Warren, shown by C. J. Cray at their meeting Monday night, January 18. They will gather in the YMCA at 8:30 p. m.

Blue Triangle.....There will be a meeting of the Blue Triangle Club Monday evening, January 18 at the YWCA. Members will meet at 9:00 p. m.

Medical Auxiliary.....The Warren Medical Auxiliary will convene at the YWCA Tuesday, January 19. The meeting will start at 4:00 p. m. with a dinner to follow at 6:00 p. m.

Bloodbank.....The bloodmobile will be stationed at the First Methodist Church in Sheffield Wednesday, January 20th. Anyone wishing to donate can merely stop at the bloodmobile.

Girl Scout Dinner.....The annual Girl Scout dinner will be observed Wednesday evening, January 20th at the YWCA at 6:30 p. m. Election of officers will take place at the dinner and the International Troop will present the program for the evening.

ALI-WE-JE.....The Ali-We-Je Club will gather in the YWCA Thursday, January 21. The starting time is 6:00 p. m.

Duplicate Bridge.....The weekly bridge games will start at 8:00 p. m. Thursday night, January 21. They will be held in the YWCA.

Two-Four.....A luncheon will be held by the Two-Four Club Friday, January 22. Members of the club will dine at 1:15 p. m. in the YWCA.

Rotary.....Mrs. Gerda Lawrence, art instructor at the Warren high school, will speak on "What Do We Accomplish In Art" at the Monday meeting of the Warren Rotary.

Eagle Dinner.....The Annual Eagle Dinner, sponsored by the Warren Elk Lodge, is scheduled for Wednesday evening, January 20 at 6:00 p. m. Guest speaker will be Ernest Spangler, of Erie. Seven Eagles who will be honored at this dinner are: Tom Barlow, Dave Swanson, Steve Coe, Harold Keck, Stanley Lindberg, John Sleeman.

Eclipse Of Moon.....The moon will pass through the shadow of the earth, causing an eclipse lasting for about three hours Monday evening, January 18.

Historical Group.....The War-

Twelfth Night

The Beginning of the Twelfth Night pageantry is dated in antiquity but it came to Warren a few years ago and Warrenites love it so much it is likely to stay for years to come.

To satisfy our curiosity we went to the ceremonies the other night, taking our camera along just for the record.

But after we were there a few minutes, the enjoyment of hundreds of bright faces became so infectious that we could not resist flashing our bulbs.

By five-thirty p.m. the Beaty Junior Hi gym rippled with the animation of the Warren and Forest county Girl Scouts who filed in what seemed to be a never-ending line of cheery bright faces, glowing with anticipation and exploding with uncontrollable noise.

First, after the leader was given the attention of the group, there was singing and a nosebag supper, then more singing and cup cakes and cokes, then more singing and selecting of the King and Queen and his Court. Finally, the King and Queen, led the procession to Beaty Field and to the burning of the green.

Toni Bonavita, Warren Troop 28, was the King; Hope Elder, Warren Troop 2, the Queen, and the following people were the King's Court: Linda McKelvy, Barbara Broell, Karen Johnson, Mary Stein, Patty Cook, Martha Alexander, Rosemarie Dangelo, Kay McKannel, Linda Owens, Sandra Scalise, Joyce Wert, Warren; Londa Olsen, Starbrick Troop 8.

The train bearers were Mary Lynn Brown, Marilyn Swanson, Warren, and Linda Elliott, Pleasant Troop 51; crown bearers were Pauline Demel and Mary Blair.

ren Public Library Historical Group will meet Wednesday, January 20, at 8:00 p. m. Mr. Ernest Miller, chairman, will be in charge of the group.

Stories And Drama.....Mrs. Edith O'Hara, newly appointed children's librarian, announces that the story telling hour will be resumed, Saturday, January 16 at 10:30 in the Warren Public Library. A meeting for all children interested in belonging to a children's theatre which will deal in dramatics, speech, diction, etc. will also take place Saturday at 2:00 p. m.

YW Dinner....The Annual YWCA Dinner Meeting has been scheduled for Monday, January 18th, in the Activities Building at 6:15 p. m. "Rambling Through Europe" will be the theme of Mrs. Gerda Lawrence's talk for the evening.

Woman's Club.....W. E. Rice, burgess, will tell the members of the Warren Woman's Club about the Warren Borough Government at the Monday meeting, January 18. It will be a luncheon meeting.

Play Try-Outs.....Try-outs for the cast of "Mr. Roberts", the Warren Players Club next production, will be held tonight and tomorrow night at 7:30 p. m. in the Woman's Club. The cast calls for many men but only one lone woman.

Ice Follies.....The Ice Follies will be in Buffalo the 13th and 14th of March. Busses are being chartered by one Warren group.

Girl Scout Course.....A basic leadership training course for all adults in Girl Scouts began today and will continue on through every Thursday of this month, in the Warren County Dairy social room. Sessions will start at 9:00 a. m. A nosebag lunch should be brought by each one attending.

COUNTY NEWS in brief . . .

The Training Committee of the Warren-Forest Council, Girl Scouts, will conduct an 18-hour basic leadership course for adults January 14, 21 and 28 in the Warren county Dairy rooms. Classes will run from 9 a. m. until 3 p. m. with luncheon at noon. All untrained adults interested in further good Girl Scouting are invited to attend.

County Agent, O. C. Tritt and Mrs. Greeldine Johnston, home economics extension representative have announced that the annual meeting for Warren county people interested in agriculture and home economics extension activities is scheduled for Wednesday, January 20, at the YWCA.

Two important speakers for the occasion are Earl G. Flohr and Herbert R. Albrecht, director of extension service of Pennsylvania State University.

The Children's Aid Society of Warren county met Tuesday a. m. and acknowledged with pleasure the many gifts contributed to the happiness fund and heard a report by Miss Clare Elliott on a meeting she attended in Harrisburg on January 5, sponsored by the department of welfare. The resignation of Mr. Don Mowell, treasurer of the group, was accepted with sincere regret and Mr. W. M. Hill was elected to that office.

Director Of Veterans Affairs Joseph Benson makes the following announcement: It is not surprising that many veteran's survivors do not know they are eligible. Congress is always in the process of changing, refining and extending laws pertaining to veteran's rights and privileges. If a deceased veteran's widow, orphan or dependent parent has any reason to believe he or she has a claim to benefits, the person should contact a service officer.

It is the privilege of this service to assist veterans and their dependents of any war with their applications for benefits.

Warren County Polio Association for 1954 held its meeting last week in the Blue and White Restaurant and elected Jack Wendell President; Robert Voigt, vice president; Martha Topper, secretary; and

Judge Allison D. Wade
Shot To Death In Court

Murder came to the Warren county court house Wednesday morning when Judge Allison D. Wade was killed by bullets from a revolver in the hands of Norman Moon, 27, of Connellsville. Judge Wade died a very few minutes after the second .45 calibre bullet was fired into his body at close range.

Moon was in court on a non-support case which he had unsuccessfully appealed to the superior court. The court had upheld Judge Wade and Moon had been asked to appear in court to discuss the decision.

While Harold Hampson, attorney for Mrs. Moon, was reviewing the case, Moon arose from a seat just outside the railing and pulled a revolver. He first shot at Mr. Hampson who dropped to the floor and crawled to safety in a nearby room where he called the Warren police.

Moon turned his fire on District Attorney Meyer Kornreich who had seen the revolver as Moon opened his coat and was attempting to leave by the northeast entrance to obtain the sheriff.

Moon then fired two wild shots in the direction of the bench. Judge Wade attempted to use the bench as a shield while working toward the nearest door, but Moon ran around the obstruction and fired a shot at closer range. Judge Wade grabbed a chair to defend himself and stated that he had been shot. He tried to reason with his attacker but Moon at still closer range fired another shot into the helpless man.

Judge Wade managed to cross in front of the bench and reached the corner of the jury box where he collapsed and died. Moon apparently reloaded his automatic with another clip and left the court room by the front entrance.

Attorney Samuel Bonavita was in the first floor lobby when Moon came running down stairs. He recognized the defendant and concluded he was trying to escape. Mr. Bonavita chased Moon to his car and reached him before he had opened the door.

He told Moon that he wasn't going anyplace, but Moon pulled his revolver and advised Mr. Bonavita to keep away or he would kill him. Moon then noticed state police crossing Market st. and assumed they were coming for him. He moved to the fence of the court house and said, "Everything is all over. I might as well finish it now."

But the officers entered the rear door in answer to the call and didn't see Moon. Meanwhile, Mr. Bonavita was trying to convince Moon that he had nothing to gain by his actions, but Moon walked by him to the car with the advice, "Don't grab me or I'll shoot you."

Moon drove down Fourth st. and Mr. Bonavita ran into the court house to summon the police. Sgt. Naddio with Pmts. Dell, Mastrian, and Kaleina immediately went in pursuit, taking Mr. Bonavita to help identify the defendant. None

Fifteen FFA Boys From this area are attending the Pennsylvania Farm Show and the FFA Convention in Harrisburg this week. The boys are: Ronald Putnam, Max Smith, Elwood Dean, Charles Fehlman, Rodney Rowland, with Robert Albright, instructor from Brokenstraw Valley Joint School; Garry Fitzgerald, Quay Brody, William Carl, Gordon Leonard, James Allio, Delbert Wagner, with Karl Flowers, instructor, from Tionesta; Gene Gruber, Francis of the men knew at that time that Judge Wade had been killed.

They caught Moon on the three-lane, west of Warren, and pulled along side his car. With the windows down they ordered him to stop. He refused and they peppered his wheel with shots, but the tire wouldn't blow.

West of the Lily Pond crossing they blew the left rear tire of Moon's car and the vehicle was out of control by the time he reached the first overhead crossing. It left the road just west of the crossing and came to a stop near the picnic area.

Moon stepped out and was immediately covered by the four officers. As he raised his weapon Sgt. Naddio ordered, "Don't do that." But Moon turned the weapon on himself, sending a bullet upward through his neck.

He was rushed to the Warren General where he apparently will recover. A murder charge no doubt will be brought by District Attorney Kornreich.

Pittsburgh papers reported this morning that Moon had asked the clerk of the superior court for information concerning his case. When he learned which judge rendered the decision he also asked for the names and addresses of all the judges. The clerk refused the request.

Judge Wade was a highly respected judge in this area. Born on September 17, 1902, he was graduated from Warren high school and attended the University of Virginia, University of Buffalo, and Harvard. He was admitted to the bar April 21, 1930.

He first was associated with Bordwell and Eldred. Later he formed a partnership with Richard P. Lott and continued to practice alone after Mr. Lott left Warren. Judge Wade started in politics as a Young Republican leader, served nine years as county solicitor, and once was national committeeman. He was elected to the county bench in 1942 and was re-elected in 1952.

His wife, Ruth Tillotson Wade, preceded him in death. Surviving are a daughter, Noel; a sister, Mrs. Lucille Wade Williams, of Harrisburg, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Harriet Wade, of New Wilmington. Removal was made to the Lutz-Vermilyea Funeral Home.

Others in the court room at the time of the tragedy were Clerk of Courts Ralph Sires and the court secretary, Mrs. Bernice Seavy, both of whom escaped by seeking shelter beneath desks. Dr. John E. Thompson, of Youngsville, walked into the room just as the firing started and sought shelter beneath a seat. George Todd, a court attendant, sensed the trouble and was in the rear hall on his way to a telephone when the shots were fired.

WASHINGTON CALLING
By Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON -- The effort to keep up with the daily flow of the news sometimes means it is impossible to see the forest because of the trees. For a brief time this reporter has been in one of the beautiful out (correct) islands of the Bahamas, cut off from newspapers and radio.

In the interval, the forest — that is to say, the general picture of the world situation — seems to have come a little more into focus. At any rate, this and one or two following columns are an effort to achieve a broader perspective after a separation from the clamor of the day's headlines.

What is strikingly evident is that the Eisenhower Administration has not yet come to grips with the most massive and formidable alteration in the world scene that we have witnessed in this century. That is the ever-increasing consolidation of Communist rule in the great land mass of China, with its 400,000,000 people. A case can be made, in the opinion of this observer, that the Communist revolution in China is of greater significance than the revolution in Russia in 1917. The two events are, of course, closely interrelated.

Nor does the Eisenhower budget projected for the fiscal year beginning July one indicate a readiness to confront this massive reality. Against the perspective of Asia and what hangs in the balance there, the State of the Union message and the budget evade the great issue of the day.

The reasons for this evasion are obvious enough. They lie in the seeming necessities of domestic politics and the terms of domestic economy as understood before the crisis of history in which the world finds itself.

But short of some radical change not now foreseeable, the fact of this evasion would seem to mean that 1954 is to be another year of indecision and temporizing. It will mean the expenditure of time long since in short supply.

The present circumstance can be highlighted by a brief reference to the recent past. Since 1949 and the triumph of the Communist armies in China's civil war, much time has been taken up with trying to convict and punish Americans guilty of "losing" China. Bitter recrimination and cries of treason are a familiar and a tragic part of the domestic political scene.

Washington And You
By Margaret Chase Smith

WASHINGTON. -- The number 1,456 has very prominently been brought to the attention of the American people. It has come to represent a matter of deep concern to the American people. But it is a statistic, and like every statistic it can vary in its meaning according to the detailed facts behind the number.

It has been represented to the American people as the number of government employees fired by the Eisenhower Administration because they were considered to be security risks. It has been stated that practically all of the 1,456

In hindsight, it is not hard to see what was wrong with China policy in the aftermath of World War II. Some of the experts, both in and out of government, believed in all honesty that the Communists represented an inevitable new day in China. America could accommodate itself to this new day in such a way as to win, if not the friendship, at least the respect of the Communist leaders.

This may have been naive, influenced in part at least by those with a pro-Communist bias. But it was nevertheless a rational viewpoint honestly held by some Americans with an intimate knowledge of the forces involved in the cataclysm going forward in China.

The official policy was to give aid to Chiang Kai-shek and his Nationalist armies. Much of this limited aid was wasted, some of it lost in graft and corruption. One of the last American military advisers with Chiang's generals reported that in order to insure an adequate supply from the coast to the front in the civil war, at least five and perhaps as many as ten American divisions would be necessary. They would safeguard the orderly movement of supplies of war otherwise subjected to incessant pillage and breakdown.

Remember that this was in the aftermath of World War II. Most members of Congress, Democrats and Republicans alike, were determined to "bring the boys home." Under this political pressure, with some assistance again from pro-Communists stirring unrest among American forces around the world, the greatest military machine ever assembled was dismantled with fantastic waste, thereby leaving an appalling vacuum of power in Europe and Asia.

In hindsight, the chief error seems to have been in never making clear that there was a choice in China — a painful and uncertain choice, but nevertheless a choice. Did Congress and the American people want to send five divisions of American troops to try to insure a flow of material that might be sufficient to defeat the Reds? That the answer from most of us would have been a resounding no does not invalidate the fact that at least the score would have been written up for all to see. The choice today is much clearer. There are at least two well-defined courses, both of which call for bold and vigorous action — an end of temporizing and evasion. Short of a positive policy, the question a few years hence will be: Who lost India? Burma? Indonesia? The rest of Asia?

were removed from their positions because of Communist connections or perversion. And there has been the general implication in these figures that "security risk" has the connotation of disloyalty.

Americans applaud the effective efforts of the Eisenhower Administration to rid the Federal Government of disloyal employees. Americans are shocked to find as high a number as 1,456. What many Americans do not fully realize is that these are not all cases of disloyal employees.

The "security risk" standard set up by the Eisenhower program is not limited to only cases of disloyalty to the United States. It is not limited to Communists, spies, fellow travellers or persons suspected of communistic leanings. It includes such cases, but is not limited to such cases.

The "security risk" standard is instead rather wide in its range. It includes everything from alcoholism and sex deviation to tendency to talk too much and inability to keep a secret. In other words, a Federal employee who is completely loyal, who is rabidly anti-Communist, may be fired under this "security risk" standard because he talks too much. And regardless of how rabidly anti-Communist he is, when he is so fired under the "security risk" standard, with many people he becomes suspected of being a Communist. The suspicion is only natural since has been fired under the Communists-in-Government charges that have led to the adoption of the "security risk" standard.

Some vigorously anti-Communist papers in Washington have been looking a little more closely into this 1,456 figure. The more they dig and the more the truth comes out on the 1,456 figure, the greater the question grows about the figure and its true meaning.

For example, one paper brought out the fact that the 1,456 total included some employees who were let out in reduction-in-force moves, without notice to them that they were under a cloud of any kind. It was also determined that there is considerable disagreement between several government agencies and the Civil Service Commission over the security-dismissal figures used in reaching the 1,456 figure.

The upshot of the whole thing is that as of now, 1,456 is an extremely dubious figure, at least from the standpoint of giving the implication that 1,456 Communist spies have been detected in the Federal Government and fired. Has the figure been padded? Is it correct? Is it misleading?

These are questions that must be answered. The American people are entitled to as detailed an answer as possible. The figure should be broken down into exact numbers on how many of the 1,456 were Communists, how many were spies, how many were disloyal, how many were alcoholics, how many were guilty of talking too much.

Until this is done — until the full and detailed truth is given to the American people on the security-risk figure, there will be a justified suspicion that the real facts are being covered up — or exaggerated.

And there have already been entirely too many cover-ups and too many suspicions on this matter of security in the past.

OUTDOORS

This is the kind of weather that brings forth the John L. Sullivan antics for men and makes the ladies happy they don't have to do as grandma and unglorify their ankles with red flannels. Blessed are those snow suits.

If this sort of winter continues the snow sports will be revived and out will come the skis, snow shoes, go-devils and other mediums of downhill locomotion of another vintage. In the days when we had winters every year these were common to every back porch and shed. But the mildness that has constantly robbed the Warren county valley of steady snow also has stolen much seasonal fun.

The average young man in Warren county knows little about the skill of manipulating a ski. In fact, many are due for their first real downhill zip, zoop...whoops!

There also is real fun fastening them on for keeps and making your way along slopes and through the woodland. This calls for good skiing and there is much pleasure to be found in the short runs and quick turns. The zig-zagging up the steep slopes also is a leg and wind builder that will pay off in later years.

Something completely unseen in late years is the go-devil. Here was an ingenious contraption, limited in its uses and construction only by the imagination of the maker.

It all started with a barrel stave. Waxed like a ski they were fun on a hill. Someone then built a seat on one. Pfffttt! And sitting, too!

Then a ski got broken and a seat went on it. You can take it from there, even as we, and the fun is unlimited. For example, if you leave enough runner behind the seat you can place your hands on the seat, put one foot on the back of the ski, and shove with the other. You can cover much territory in all kinds of snow depths and through brush lots, woods, and field with one of these gadgets. And when you hit a steep down slope the speed is all you can ask.

Pity the poor youngster who never has known continuous snow. He hasn't traveled. He hasn't zoomed. He hasn't lived. With wind in his face, snow in his teeth, and barbed wire in his britches.

Hunting Vacation Plans

You can start your hunting vacation plans now, thanks to the Pennsylvania Game Commission which has set tentative dates for next fall's sport. Though these are not official until next July when the Commission makes its final decision, they probably won't be far off.

Small game will get its first shower of lead on October 30, a Saturday. The quiver and shaft enthusiasts will have the woods to themselves starting October 11, a Monday.

Antlered deer will be fair targets on a Monday, November 29.

There should be more bear killed. They will be open game on December 1, when the deer slayers are crowded into the brush. You should come out with one or the other.

Special doe seasons have not been announced, but there will be days when the female of the gentle breed will feel the hot sear and be knocked reeling by high velocity missiles.

Game Meat Legal Till July 1

After July 1 it would not be wise to serve anything you shot last fall. Wild game is legal larder filler until that date. In the case of migratory birds you have even less time. These must not be in your possession more than ninety days after the close of the season in which they were taken, and no matter in what state or country in which they were taken.

communities lacking in this sport will give it the largest count.

However, we must examine the entire poll before making large investments, and another activity which rated a major vote was skating, both roller and ice. Here is an activity that can be provided in a way that will serve us the year around in an outdoor setting. A rink can be built on which the rollers will whirl in the warm months and the blades will cut in the winter time.

To be successful in the Warren area brine pipes must be added to help the freezing process and to maintain ice when the constant succession of thaws threaten the sport. Skating is at its best on mild winter days, if ice can be maintained.

Much experimenting has been done in Warren with ice skating and a great amount of knowledge has been accumulated. The climatic problem is the major hurdle, but ways have been found to defeat this and at one time a Warren official group nearly tried a proposed experiment.

The cost of brine pipes has been prohibitive in the past. We at one time had as our visitor the man who built the Hershey rink and other famous skating palaces. His figures scared us.

But science is finding answers to such problems and the introduction of plastic to the pipe field should bring even a brined rink within the pocketbook of a Warren county-sized area.

Other forms of fun which are not available to all include golf, tennis, organized activities for the elderly, clean water sports, and well organized spectator sports.

The sad aspect of this situation is that these we have named are the leading sports of the day. Golf is a healthy game for all ages, with a limitless range of skill and healthy walking as its contributions to your physical welfare. Tennis is going downhill because of poor national organization and lack of local facilities. Water sports are defeated by a filthy river and varying water levels.

But all are possible if we attack the problem with intelligence and vision. There can be swimming, skating, golf, tennis, and water sports for this area if the public sees the picture and asks the right questions.

Let's briefly take them one at a time. We believe a group such as the Junior Chamber of Commerce can rally enough help to build either a swimming pool or an ice skating rink, and perhaps both, within the next two years.

There are enough golfers traveling twenty miles or more for their fun to build an eighteen hole course if they will get together, work together, and show enough confidence in each other and the future of this area to lay a couple hundred dollars on the line.

Tennis no doubt will be a minor part of any community long range plan which may evolve from present efforts to do something for Warren.

Water sports? If Warren ever gets real flood control it will find it has accomplished more than the provision of protection for its industry and homes which border the river. It also will have obtained a cleaner river and a steady water flow that will vary little through the water sports months.

And the construction of a sewage plant, which must be done, will automatically make the river sufficiently clean to entice people to its waters. Nature will do the rest. You will see swimming, boats, fishing, and perhaps skating. Landlocked pools easily could be constructed, using river water for ice skating purposes.

The future, a future that starts in 1954, can offer much to an area which has so much with which to work. We need public alertness to the possibilities, and leadership with vision. We need groups such as the Junior Chamber of Commerce which will knit us together in common efforts to provide pleasures we and our children are justified in having.

And we also need public officials who will work closely together so that expenditures will not be duplicated and the most is made out of every facility, an outstanding example being new schools which can provide such facilities as public auditoriums and adequate gyms that will serve all ages.

In these days of alleged egalitarianism there should be few, and possibly no, kinds of leisure time pleasure which are not available to all. Yet despite fine talk of equality in our time there is much entertainment which is impossible for many.

Some of this is in the simplest form and is not necessarily limited by lack of funds. The walls are of many hues, ranging from stiff necked exclusiveness to inadequate facilities. You will find both in Warren and Warren county.

To be specific may run the danger of being too personal, but it is a situation which should be faced by all who talk of expanding opportunities. Man was not made to huddle in an office or sweat out his time in an enclosure. And in these days when production methods rapidly reduce the time required to do a job, more hours are being made available for pleasure, much of which should be of a physical nature to keep us healthy and happy.

In Warren a swimmer must join the YMCA or travel many miles for the healthiest of sports. The YMCA pool is limited in size and by its nature discourages many from indulging. A big share of the swimmers, or would be swimmers, want a tan to go with their fun, and are not attracted by indoors splashing. Fresh air and sunshine are a part of the ingredients which they expect from the sport. The country club's pool of course is exclusive and already too crowded even for the small membership.

The poll taken in Warren last year to learn what people want for leisure time pleasure naturally gave the largest total to swimming. We say naturally because previous polls in Warren have shown the same result and recreation specialists know that most

Clubs At Beaty

As Everyone out in that direction knows, Wednesday is club day at Beaty. A club as you must know is composed of a group of people who have a similar or mutual interest. The clubs at Beaty are happy little group organizations where boys and girls with a mutual interest meet and are educated but have the secret notion they are being entertained.

We sent our photographer over to Beaty last week for the purpose of getting a picture of Mr. Powell, the principal and a few facts on a particular subject we had in mind, but upon his arrival he heard it was club day and it was at that moment that our assignment was completely forgotten about and after seeing the faces in the pictures he brought back we've come to the conclusion that it's just as well. In fact, we think it's more than just as well.

Beaty has eight clubs and we got them all except the swimming club.

It seems Everybody Cheers For Beaty...at any rate our camera would not take in all members of the Cheerleader's Clubs...here is a sample of members.

The Baby Sitting Club...is made up of girls from the seventh and eighth grades..under Mrs. Edna Stone.
